

Accounting Year 12 Summer Work

Students have been given a copy of an Accounting Ethics knowledge book to read over the summer holidays. They have been introduced to the topic and are expected to develop their existing knowledge and skills by reading the relevant theory and examples.

All learners have been advised that the booklet is approximately 8 hours of work which ideally should be broken down into 30 minute slots. They can read the content and annotate their notes alongside, or alternatively create their own revision tools through Q cards or by devising comprehensive notes.
