

Economics Year 12 Summer Work

Students have been given a copy of a knowledge book to complete over the summer holidays. All content has been covered in Year 12 and so the summer task is one of knowledge reinforcement and also a great opportunity to fill any gaps in knowledge.

Students have already been given a study guide which they can use to complete the work.

All learners have been advised that the booklet is approximately 8 hours of work which ideally should be broken down into 30 minute slots. In addition to this, students have been urged to read articles on the BBC economy section webpage to keep up to date with current events. Tutor2u, econplustal and the economist YouTube channels also provide great content which will help students in preparation for their A level exams.
